MASONROSE

Le Beauvallon, Bay of St Tropez

KEY FACTS

Le Beauvallon, one of the original Belle Époque palaces on the French Riviera, is a private residence and estate steeped in more than 100 years of history. It has had many eminent artists, writers and politicians as guests

The property is nestled in four hectares of peaceful century-old pine-filled grounds, yet with the lights and glamour of St Tropez close by

It has been completely redesigned as the ultimate 44-room residence, with many of the rooms featuring terraces and panoramic sea views across the sparkling Bay of St Tropez

For ultimate luxury, the 199 sq.m Sky Pad penthouse offers unspoiled views over the bay with floor-to-ceiling sliding windows

Guests can enjoy a relaxed atmosphere choosing to dine when they wish throughout the day

DID YOU KNOW?

Le Beauvallon is steeped in 100 years of history. It has witnessed and played part in both World Wars and welcomed a number of eminent guests including Edward Kennedy, Lady Churchill, Colette and King Mohammed V of Morocco

Le Beauvallon is one of the original seven Belle Époque palaces between Cannes and Marseille and is the only remaining in its original form as a hôtel particulier

The property incorporates and exhibits artworks from all over the world throughout its interior and exterior spaces. These include the striking 2002 Serpentine Gallery Summer Pavilion, which now resides in Le Beauvallon's Beach Club

The concierge at Le Beauvallon can take care of guest requests, including transfers by private plane, helicopter and the property's own limousine boat, as well as childcare service, event planner, hair stylist, personal trainer, private chefs, masseuse, make-up artists and more

The 199 sq.m Sky Pad penthouse offers unspoiled views over the bay with floor to ceiling sliding windows

Le Beauvallon is part of the Parkview Private Collection. The properties in the collection have been selected for their inimitable characters and individuality. Available on an exclusive basis, it also includes Saluzi – a 5-deck super yacht offered for charter in the Mediterranean and Asian waters, and Salone Monaco – a private office and event space in Beijing. Soon to be added to the collection is an elegant townhouse in London's Mayfair
